

The Lacombe Guardian

VOL. I No. 96

LACOMBE, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 30, 1914

$1.00 PER YEAR

Items of Interest Locally

Stanley & Switzer have best value in flour.

For the choicest candies, made in Lacombe, go to the Lacombe Candy Kitchen.

New music and full line of magazines, at the new drug store, the City Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vickers estimated friends at five hundred on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. McKeut returned this week from Edmonton, where she was visiting friends.

Good fresh groceries at right prices at Stanley & Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gourlay entertained friends at five hundred on Wednesday evening the 22nd.

Mrs. A. M. Campbell receives on Friday, January 30, and afterwards on the third Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. J. L. Poole returned to her home in Wetaskiwin the first of the week, after a fortnight's visit with friends here.

H. L. Brown returned on Saturday last from a holiday trip to Ontario. Mrs. Brown returning on Thursday this week.

The Rev. W. Harvey Moore B.
A., will deliver an address on "Religious and National Issues" to the Methodist church on February 18.

A seed fair in connection with the Central Alberta Exhibition Association will be held in the town hall, Lacombe, on Wednesday, February 11. For particulars apply to the secretary, N. E.
Carruthers.

Mrs. Frank Farmer, formerly of Bentley, visited friends in Lacombe last week. Mr. Farmer now has a fruit farm near Mission, B. C., the fruits from which he ships in season to Messrs. Titworth and Raymond here.

A masquerade ball will be held in Eureka Valley school house on Friday evening, February 6, with the object of raising funds with which to purchase additions to the school equipment. A good time is assured to all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Denike estimated about forty of their friends at five hundred Wednesday evening last week. All present report a pleasant evening. Mrs. A.
M. Campbell won the first prize for ladies, and Mr. Bower the first prize for gentlemen.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Stephen's church will give a masquerade ball in the Comet Theatre, on Thursday night, February 5. Prizes will be given for the best original fancy and comic costumes. The floor will be reserved for dancers in costume till after the prizes are awarded. Everybody come, and come in costume if possible.
Tickets $2 per couple. Single tickets $1.

For feed and poultry supplies, go to Stanley & Switzer.

Miss Murphy, of Edmonton, is here for a few days' visit with Miss McKeut.

The City Pharmacy are steadily increasing their stock, and right now you will find it a first class drug store. Give us a trial.

The Assembly Club's dance on Thursday night brought out the usual large attendance and all present had a good time.

Lacombe hockey team journeyed to Coronation Thursday, and showed the good people of that town how the game is played. This was the third league game between Lacombe and Coronation and resulted in victory for Lacombe, the score being 7 to 1.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Cameron gave a five hundred party to about thirty of their friends on Monday evening. It was a jolly party and all enjoyed the evening. Mrs.
Gibson won the ladies' prize, and Mr. Gibson the gentleman's prize. Those other two prizes were awarded to Mr. Titworth and Mr. Woody.

These long winter nights are just one dizzy round of pleasure in this bur, with the Assembly Club ball on Thursday night this week,
a public ball on Friday night, and next week a program including a fancy dress ice carnival, dancing class assembly, masquerade ball, league hockey match, five hundred varieties galore, and curling matches every afternoon and evening.

J. W. Shirley was down from Rocky Mountain House to spend Sunday at home. He reports the work of getting out tie for the Lacombe & Blindman Valley Electric Railway as moving right along.
He has sublet a large part of the contract to the McDonald outfit, and expects to have six thousand ties ready for this end of the road before the snow goes. Mr. Shirley will stay at Rocky Mountain House and personally oversee the work.

The efforts of some of the town council to "fire" Sam Morris from the police force have not worked out exactly as the aforesaid councillors anticipated. The proceedings were carried on in a manner that got Sam's dander up, and so he whetted on his tomahawk and started out after scalps. So effectively did he carry on his campaign that two scalps now decorate the walls of his wigwam. The first to pay the penalty of his rash action was R. H. Inglis, the instigator of the offensive deed. Sam succeeded in showing that "Bob" was woefully shy on the qualifications required by statute, and Robert's resignation went in. Sam next called attention to the fact that Wm. Sage was disqualified from sitting on the council board by reason of holding the office of bailey, and "Billy's" resignation went in. Both resignations went into effect Wednesday. A meeting of the raters has been called for February 7, at eleven o'clock, to nominate candidates to fill the vacancies caused by the resignetions of the erstwhile councillors.

Annual Seed Fair at Lacombe

The Eighth Annual Seed Fair will be held in the Town Hall,

Lacombe, on Wednesday, Feby.
11th. Following is the program:

10 a.m.—All exhibits must be in place. Judging begins.

1:30 to 6 p.m.—Seed Market.

The hall will be open for the examination, buying and selling of seed.

2:30 p.m.—Public meeting. Addressers will be given by speakers supplied by the Provincial Seed Branch.

RULES

(1) All Seeds entered for competition must have been grown by the exhibitor in the year 1913.

(2) No Seed shall be admitted for competition for prize unless the quantities of Seed for sale as per sample exhibited are at least 50 bushels in each case of wheat, oats, barley and rye; 6 bushels of field peas; 3 bushels in each case of timothy seed, rye grass seed and bromo grass seed; 1 bushel each of blue grass and alfalfa, and 10 bushels of potatoes.

(3) In classes 1-8, inclusive, one bushel of seed shall be shown in classes 9-15, half a bushel. All exhibits of Seed shall be held to be representative of the total quantity of such seed offered for sale by the exhibitor.

(4) No hand-picked exhibits in grains or grasses shall be admitted for competition for prizes.

(5) Small samples of every exhibit will be taken and held by the Association, in charge of the secretary, for exhibition purposes.

(6) No premium shall be awarded on exhibits that contain impurities, which in the opinion of the judge are of a noxious nature.

(7) No exhibitor shall receive more than one prize in any class.

(8) All samples of Seed must be labelled after judging, with the name and address of the exhibitor, the name of the variety, the amount of seed for sale and the selling price.

(9) In case of dispute a statutory declaration that the above rules have been complied with may be required from each or any exhibitor of seed.

(10) All exhibits for competition for prizes must be delivered at the Town Hall, Lacombe, not later than 10 a.m. on Wednesday, February 11th, 1914, and shall not be removed until the close of the fair.

PRIZE LIST

Sample.	1	2	3
1. Winter Wheat, any hard variety.....	$6	$4	$2
2. Spring Wheat, any hard variety.....	6	4	2

3. Oats, White, Long	6	4	2
4. Oats, White, Short	6	4	2
5. Barley, 6 Rowed....	6	4	2
6. Barley, 2 Rowed....	6	4	2
7. Rye.....	6	4	2
8. Field Peas.....	5	3	2
9. Timothy Seed.....	5	3	2
10. Rye Grass Seed.....	5	3	2
11. Bromo Grass Seed.....	5	3	2
12. Alfalfa.....	5	3	2

13. Blue Grass.....

14. White Potatoes.....

15. Red Potatoes.....

N. E. CARRUTHERS,

Secretary.

H. J. A. EVANS,

President.

Meeting in Interest of Natural Gas

A meeting was held in the town hall on Monday evening for the purpose of discussing the question of drilling for gas at Lacombe.

Mr. Martin, one of the oldest natural gas experts in Alberta, and the man at the head of the largest drilling company in the west, addressed the meeting at considerable length, and impressed his hearers with the fact that natural gas was the chief factor in building up a town. He proved by figures that natural gas was the cheapest of fuels; 1,000 feet of gas at a cost of 12¢, the price offered for manufacturing purposes in Lacombe, was equal to one ton of coal, which costs us here in the neighborhood of $6. He also by way of illustration of the cheapness of the fuel, stated that a 20 horse power engine could be run at full capacity for ten hours on two thousand feet of gas, costing the very low sum of 25¢. He also pointed out the advantage natural gas would be to the citizens at large, and the very considerable reduction it would make in the household expenses.

He quoted figures to show that eight and ten room houses in Calgary and Medicine Hat were heated and lighted during the cold winter months at a price averaging about 28 per month.

Mr. Martin also was sure that gas would be struck in Lacombe and was willing to back his judgment by taking 100 shares in the Tito & Cement Company in the Vig district last Saturday night.

On Saturday night last the Bentley hockey team crossed sticks
with the Blackfalds team at Lacombe rink, the resulting score being 5 to 1 in favor of Blackfalds.

Bentley

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ford
Martin, on Saturday, January 10, a son.

Mrs. (Dr.) Baker and two children arrived on Sunday last to join the doctor here.

C. H. Whitworth and D. B. Palmer have left this week for a visit to their old home in Iowa.

J. H. Damron and H. Thorp now have their new real estate office open and ready for business.

A dance will be given in Mc-Pherson's hall on Saturday evening this week. Everybody welcome.

The Bentley Amateur Dramatic Company are rehearsing the play
"What Happened to Jones," and will present the same soon

time in March.

F. Vickerson, accompanied by D. W. Garner, held a meeting in the interest of the Lacombe Brick,
Tito & Cement Company in the
Vig district last Saturday night.

On Saturday night last the Bentley hockey team crossed sticks
with the Blackfalds team at Lacombe rink, the resulting score being 5 to 1 in favor of Blackfalds.

Blackfalds

L. A. Hill was at Rocky Mountain House this week on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sorenson, of Calgary, are here visiting Carl's parents.

Miss Flack, high school teacher, spent Sunday with her parents
west of Lacombe.

Mrs. McCullie left on Thursday last for Iowa, where she is called by the illness of her father.

We are told that the C. N. R.
train will leave the siding south of town every Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid gave a social at the parsonage on Friday evening last that was much enjoyed by all present.

The hockey game between Black-falds and Bentley, played at Lacombe rink on Saturday evening last, was won by Blackfalds on a 6 to 1 score.

Sunny Alberta is right on the job again. This morning at sunrise the thermometer registered 22 above, and later in the day marked 30 above in the shade.

will proceed deeper at the same rate per foot. The company was of the opinion that gas would be struck before reaching this depth, and were almost positive that it would be struck in paying quantities.

The Brick Company has accepted this tender, provided that the citizens of Lacombe grant a franchise for a term of years for the supply of gas to the municipality, and the council will be asked in the near future to submit a by-law to the people.

It is in the interests of the town that this company be granted a franchise, one being taken to safeguard the interests of the citizens, and we believe that when the company lays its proposal before the town it will carry unanimously.
If gas is struck it will certainly have the effect of bringing business here which will benefit everyone.

Mr. Vickerson is continuing his canvass for subscriptions, and those citizens who can afford to contribute a small amount should do so.
The outside residents are doing more than their share at the present time.

Boost the natural gas proposition.

The St. Cyprian's Men's Institute, which will be domiciled in the old Gilmore hall, will be formally opened on Wednesday next, February 4th, at 8 p. m. His Worship, the Mayor of Lacombe, having very kindly consented to perform the opening ceremony.

It is intended to hold a whist drive, and other games, including billiards, chess and draughts will be provided. The object of the committee is to provide a place where the young men of Lacombe and district may find social amusement and recreation—a home with club comforts in fact.

The committee extends a hearty welcome to all who care to come, and will be pleased to receive applications for membership.

Fatal Train Wreck

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 25—Five or more persons were killed and a score were injured tonight when Michigan Central passenger train
No. 70, from Saginaw, due here at 10:10 p. m., collided head-on with a freight train about three miles outside the city.

The baggage car and one coach of the passenger were telescoped and every passenger in the couch was either killed or injured. All available doctors were rushed to the scene of the wreck from this city. Several of the wounded were brought to hospitals here on an interurban car, the line of which parallels the Michigan Central tracks at that point.

BIRTHS

McLeod—At Lacombe, on Tuesday, January 27, to Mr. and Mrs.
J. N. McLeod, a son.

Garland—At Lacombe, on Wednesday, January 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Delmer E. Garland, a son.

SHE'S A 'WONDER.'

SHES a woman small and clever. Rolling long, yet sedentary weary, she thinks he loves her more by what he does. She is neat and quite the lady. Her ways are based on reason, she's a wonder, and always tries to please.

She is crisp of speech and forceful. I am sure that she's resourceful. To do what she does, I think, she has face a certain surety.

Full of courage, yet demurely, she has been even more bold than to speak as with.

I believe she's rather never.

When she means a great endeavor, but at least she never fails, you can be sure.

She has test to match her power,

Which she uses every hour,

And her patience through the ages would.

She is so queen whose glory is a grand historic story,

And she is not failed before, you'll find.

She is just a young schoolteacher,

And the world is to make such a home.

—Chicago Daily News.

The Modern Maid.

It was getting late at night when the girl went into the shop to buy some odds and ends with various domestic purchases, as she explained the transaction to her mistress who cried out suddenly, "There—if I haven't got the am'an eggs for breakfast?"

"What am'an?" inquired the maid.

"Well, Ellen, I suppose you have some eggs as we go," replied the maid.

"Yes, Mrs. N.," responded Ellen, with some severity, "but let me tell you I can't do my work unless I'm properly fed."—Manhattan Guardian.

Religious Versus Business.

Two brothers living in southern Illinois run a country store, and they have a large trade in wool, oil, butter and hardware. The girl started, "Well, Jim, I suppose they're here now, got a habit of talking to his brother about the beauties and comforts of religion and persuading him to join the church."

"Yes, But, Jim, I know that it must comfort and mitigate helpful to body and soul to be a good church member," said Jim, "and I would like to join. But just look ye, Jim, there has got to be somebody here of the first to weight this yore wool."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Balling Point.

Mrs. Longwedge—Such a charming woman! Mrs. Von Pickle has So much taste and style about her. Mr. Longwedge quite natural. It would make a rascally tucker to be kept in hot water for ten years.—New York Evening Journal.

Forces of Habit.

"No matter how terrible he gets into our neighbor seems to put a good face on the matter."

"That's his business. He's a beauty doctor."—Baltimore American.

A Cinch.

Howard—Is there any advantage to being born with a highly educated mother? Sure though. No one tries to get her away from you. Judge.

The Sure.

Elbow—He carries nothing for wealth, time after time, to the door.

Sister—No wonder he makes light of it.—Chicago Daily News.

Illusion Gone.

Fence—Do you believe in dreams?

Fence—No, I married one.—Town Topics.

FOR ECZEMAS AND RASHES

CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

The itching, burning, suffering and loss of sleep caused by eczemas, rashes and irritations of the skin and scalp are at once relieved and permanent skin health restored in most cases by warm baths with Cuticura Soap followed by gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are also Thompson's soap. A small sample of each will fit 25-cent pieces. Send 25-cent stamp and postage to Cuticura Soap Co., Chicago.

W. H. U. 983

SHE GOT THE INFORMATION.

Showing Up Wily Woman in the Person of Maudie Marie.

JOHN HILL, who for many years has had a thriving ice cream and sandwich shop in the business of the beautiful Maudie Marie, at last tenderly asked the dear old dame to change the style of her visiting cards, all of which made Maudie Marie stop, look and listen.

The dear old man didn't know the name of the wily woman, but he knew that a center of this kind it was important she should know before committing herself. So he waited a week and began to sing.

"I don't think I ought to marry you, John," said the maid, ever so softly, "and we wouldn't get along well. You are too dreadfully extravagant."

"Extravagant!" exclaimed the young man. "On the contrary, dearest, I am very economical. I have to be."

"Then," very emphatically, declared Maudie Marie, "I can never be your wife."

"Why?" gasped the astonished John. "Because I am an economic?"

"No, John," replied Maudie Marie, having a soulful sigh. "Because you have to be."—Washington Star.

Natural Query.

Miss Morris had recently joined the Band of Sisters for befriending Burgars and was being shown over a prison for the first time.

One prisoner, evidently a man of education, addressed her more familiarly than the others.

"Ho, Ho, Ho!" observed the burglar, but added, with kind philosophy. "Never mind. The shops will be shut now. We shall have to manage in the morning with bread and butter and marmalade." The girl started.

"And why shall I have?" also inquired.

"Well, Ellen, I suppose you have no home as we do," replied the burglar.

"Yes, Mrs. N.," responded Ellen, with some severity, "but let me tell you I can't do my work unless I'm properly fed."—Manhattan Guardian.

At the Hospital Post.

Samuel Rogers, the English poet whose house in London was noted as a literary center, was very fond of the society of ladies and was a great favorite with them. One day he married a woman in his later years, but regret not having done so. Highest nearest approximation to the nuptial bed was with a girl whom he thought was the prettiest in the room.

"At the end of the London session she said to him at a ball, 'I am tomorrow to apply to the police to have you arrested.' Rogers has said that the contention of every one was drawn toward a large party that had just entered, in the center of which was a lady, Jeanette, the daughter of his host. Stopping to look, he found it was this wonderful beauty. He found it was she merely said, 'You never came to see me again.'

"May I ask why you are in this dressing place?"

"Madam," he replied, "I am here for robbery at a seaside hotel."

"How are you intriguing?" said Miss Morris. "Were you the proprietor?"—London Answer.

Expert in Handwriting.

Mother was fair, but she wished to be fairer still. "Adored by nature, she was a true specimen of creation. Loveliest was her great good looks."

Invited out to dinner, she stood before the mirror, and having made her yellow locks a trifle yellower, she proceeded to apply the pencil to her eyebrows. "See how it may be remarked, is as easy as anything," and mother had reached this age.

The little daughter stood by and wondered.

"Mother, what are you writing on your face for?"—Popular Magazine.

Looking Forward.

Visitor—Aren't you and your a little girl?

Little Girl—No; I'd rather be a little boy.

Visitor—But little boys generally have to wear their father's leftover garments.

Little Girl—Mother is a suffragette, and she pretty soon it won't make much difference.—Youngstown Telegram.

The Little Daughter stood by and wondered.

"Mother, what are you writing on your face for?"—Popular Magazine.

Looking Forward.

Visitor—Aren't you and your a little girl?

Little Girl—No; I'd rather be a little boy.

Visitor—But little boys generally have to wear their father's leftover garments.

Little Girl—Mother is a suffragette, and she pretty soon it won't make much difference.—Youngstown Telegram.

One Offense Proved.

Lawyer—Now, sir, tell me, are you not well acquainted with the prisoner?

Witness—I've known him for twenty years.

Lawyer—Have you? I must now ask, does he stand to be a disturber of public peace?

Witness—Well—or he used to belong to a drum and fife band.—Stray Stories.

Good Idea.

Diamonds.

That Jeweler—Aren't you afraid to leave those diamonds in a front window at night?

Second Jeweler—Not with my scheme. Just before I go home I put in a little sign on them reading, "Anything In This Window 10 Cents."—Kansas City Times.

Blinking to the Styles.

"This," said the curator, displaying a mummy, "was an Egyptian princess."

"Poor thing!" exclaimed the conventional girl. "She has died in her hobble skirt, didn't she?"—Stray Stories.

Just Business.

Dolly-Moos thing! You said you wouldn't give away that secret I told you!

Dolly—I didn't. I swapped it for another secret and so ice cream soda.

—Exchange.

Going Some.

"Does your wife make your money go far?"

"I judge so. None of us ever come back that I know of."—Buffalo Express.

Economy's Drawbacks.

Madge—Do you think a girl should marry an economical man?

—Dolly—suppose so, but it's awfully engaged to one.

Kumfort Overshoes

Rubbers and Over-Skinnings in One.

Patented.

Johns' Patent.

Manufactured by

Kumfort Specialty Goods Co., Ltd.

Limited, London.

All Dealers

in the U.S.A.

and elsewhere.

Write for catalogue.

Johns' Patent

Manufacturing Company

London, Ontario.

Canada.

U.S.A.

U.K.

Australia.

New Zealand.

South Africa.

India.

China.

Japan.

Peru.

Argentina.

Brazil.

Chile.

Costa Rica.

Colombia.

Ecuador.

Greece.

Honduras.

Italy.

Malta.

Mexico.

Nicaragua.

Panama.

Portugal.

Romania.

Spain.

Uruguay.

Venezuela.

Yugoslavia.

Zambia.

Zimbabwe.

South Africa.

Kenya.

Tanzania.

Uganda.

Malawi.

Zambia.

Botswana.

Zimbabwe.

Angola.

Zimbabwe.

Malawi.

Zimbabwe.

Angola.

Zimbabwe.

The Lacombe Guardian

F. H. SCHOOLEY, PROPRIETOR

EXIT EMERGENCY

Two more tombstones were erected in the Conservative cemetery on the 15th inst., when parliament assembled for the third session of the Borden Government. Where formerly the monument of the tariff commission bill stood in lonely condemnation of the Government's past there are now three cenotaphs, commemorating the Borden Emergency Naval Aid Bill, and the Highway's Aid Bill, both of which have been interred without even the grace of a funeral ceremony, having been added. Their obituaries came none too soon, for the Emergency was still-born on December 5th 1912, and the Highway's Aid Bill was killed at the close of the last session when the Government abandoned it rather than adopt the Senate amendments designed to bring it into accord with the Canadian constitution and provincial rights over highways.

Last year's Speech from the Throne was regarded as barren. This year's Speech might be regarded as a negation. The Speech which was given to His Royal Highness conveyed sympathetic references to the Duchess of Connaught's illness and his own absence in England. It informed the people that there had been an increase in trade and immigration; that there had been a good harvest in the west and that the railways were running so well that they had been able to take care of the crop. Fleeting mention was made of the financial stringency, with the consoling proviso that it was attacking the whole world, so that of course Canada must get its full share.

No mention was made of the fact that trade had declined during the last few months, that the Government revenue was dropping, and that soup kitchens were being found necessary in the larger cities to meet the hunger of the unemployed. It was proudly announced that the Government's income had been sufficient to meet its spending, despite the fact that Hon. Mr. White had been compelled to borrow $45,000,000 in England during the year at high interest, and would have borrowed more, but that the British financiers shooed him off.

No mention was made of the Senate, whose reference of the Naval Aid Bill to the people and amendments of the Highway's Aid Bill had caused the Government so much disappointment. It is improbable that this neglect was caused by courtesy owing to the fact that the Speech was delivered in the Red Chamber. In fact the Government in omitting any reference to the Upper Chamber tacitly admitted that the Senate by refusing these abandoned measures had performed its proper functions in conserving the interests of the people. Further assurance to this effect, although not in consonance with Mr. Borden's pre-election promises, was conveyed in the announcement that the Government intended to introduce a Bill by which it could give the four Western Provinces two more Senators apiece, in the hope of before long silencing the Grim Reaper in effacing the present Liberal majority.

The only concrete legislation promised was the long deferred Redistribution Bill, which was merely mentioned, and bills relating to the Civil Service and to Trust and Loan Companies.

Beyond this the main items of the Speech were congratulatory paragraphs regarding the completion of the National Transcontinental Railway, which was so bitterly opposed by the Conservatives; the progress of the Hudson Bay Railway, which was started by the late Liberal Government and has been botched by the present administration; the development of Canadian ports, following on the programme initiated by the Hon. J. Israel Tarte and elaborated under the Hon. Mr. Brodeur, and a felicitation of itself by the Government on the Agricultural Instruction Aid Act, which was founded on the advice of the Technical Education Commission, appointed under the late Liberal Government.

Almost at the last came the most important item from the Government point of view—announcement that the estimates would be promptly brought down, so that the Ministers could have plenty of money with which to carry on their extravagances. With unnecessary irony it was stated that the estimates "have been prepared with due regard to the necessary development of the resources of the Dominion coupled with careful attention to economical administration." If the latter provision is rigidly adhered to it will be a great surprise and disappointment to the Hon. Messrs. Rogers, Hughes, and Reid, et al.

The tariff, as expected, was steadily avoided. There was no hint that the high cost of living needed any attention; no suggestion that the real interests of the people were being considered. The whole programme for the coming session of Parliament, scant as it is, has apparently been designed to forget the mistakes of last session and fix things up so as to help the Government itself for the present. As to the people and their requirements, they were treated with a fine old Tory contempt.

This, however, merely outlines the Borden Government's official ideas. When the Opposition defines its programme, it will probably be found that Parliament is forced to undertake legislation more in consonance with the needs of Canada, just as was the case last session and the session before.

THOUSANDS OUT OF WORK

For almost the first time since Canada was rehabilitated in 1897 by the Fielding tariff and the wise administration of the Laurier government, Canada is now suffering owing to a serious business crisis, with consequent lack of employment. In Toronto it is stated that at a conservative estimate there are 15,000 men walking the city streets in search of employment, while this number is being considerably increased, no less than 2,500 men having lost their jobs between December 20th and the New Year. So serious has the situation become that the city council has had to take cognizance of it and civic works are being arranged in the hope of furnishing employment for these men. There is a Homeric justice in the fact that Tory Toronto is one of the worst sufferers from Tory mis-government.

At Winnipeg it is reported that between 3,000 and 5,000 men are out of work, while their number is being constantly increased.

At Regina, Saskatchewan, the position has become so acute that the unemployed have threatened violence in the hope of attracting attention to their misery. The police found it so difficult to cope with the situation that preparations were made to bring out the militia and put the city under martial law in case of emergency.

In Montreal every charitable institution is taxed beyond its limits, and at several points "bread lines" have been established with such effect that men whose only misfortune was that they had no work to do gathered at midnight to wait hours in the cold for their dole of bread and coffee.

From every part of Canada come reports of hard times, retrenchment and lack of employment. It is impossible not to contrast these conditions with those which prevailed during the fifteen years of Liberal administration and during the first year of the present Government.

It is impossible to argue that the methods of the present extravagant opportunist Government have nothing to do with this state of affairs, so disastrous to a young and prosperous country such as Canada. During the Laurier administration national expenditures were kept down within reasonable limits while proper care was taken to spend whatever money was necessary on national development and the tariff was judiciously revised in order to meet conditions as they arose. Prosperity was the natural result. Under two years of Conservative Government the deficit of national prosperity raised during fifteen years of some Liberal administration has been crumpled; taxes have been increased, expenditures have doubled. Extravagance and corruption have been in evidence on every hand and now the inevitable result has followed. Canada's credit abroad has suffered, her trade has fallen off, her debt has increased, the national income is failing and the financial stringency is such as will make the present winter memorable to many as the worst they have had to endure since 1896.

Providence helps those who help themselves. Under Liberal administration Canada was really governed, and the statesmen who supported Sir Wilfrid Laurier moulded their actions to meet situations as they arose. Under the coalition group of opportunists behind Mr. Borden the reverse has been the case, and even now that Parliament is again assembling, the Government is so tightly in the grip of the highly protected interests that not the slightest move is indicated towards the lowering of the tariff on food or any serious effort to cope with the high cost of living and the lack of employment.

How You Would Enjoy
some of these delicious lamb chops, or one of these big juicy steaks, if you only came here and saw them. Really, you would not deny yourself such splendid cuts. They look so good, fresh and tasty, and they actually are the finest to be had in this section or anywhere.

The Pioneer Meat Market
COLE & SLATER, Proprietors

P. O. BOX 112

PHONE 21

FRANK VICKERSON

Financial Agent, Real Estate, Insurance, Money to Loan
VICKERSON BLOCK, RAILWAY STREET, LACOMBE

LOANS

Headquarters for Farm Loans.
Company and private funds to loan.

Agent for National Trust Company, Ltd., and Netherlands Transatlantic Mortgage Company.

INSURANCE

Fire Insurance Placed on farm and town buildings and contents at lowest possible rates. Agent for the Quebec Fire Assurance Co., the German American Insurance Co., the Central Canada Insurance Co., the Acadia Fire Insurance Co., and the American Central Insurance Co.

FARM AND TOWN PROPERTY BOUGHT AND SOLD

Judicial Sale of Farm Property Near Morningside, Alberta.

Pursuant to judgment and final Order for Sale there will be sold by C. F. Damon, Auctioneer, at the office of Frank Vickerson, at Lacombe, Alberta, on Saturday the 1st day of January, 1914, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, the South East quarter of Section 8, in Township 42, in Range 26, West of the Fourth Meridian, Alberta, subject to the reservations and conditions in the grant from the Crown or in the existing Certificate of Title.

The vendors are informed that this property consists of 160 acres of land of which 146 acres are good arable land, 10 acres of low land and 5 acres of scrub. The property is fenced on twosides with a woven wire fence and tamarack posts and on the South and West sides with a two strand wire fence and tamarack posts. The property is situated within three and a half miles of the Town of Morningside and within one mile of a school. There is a good well on the property. The soil is a black loam averaging approximately twenty inches in depth with clay subsoil. There are 30 acres of land under cultivation on the property this year.

There are the following buildings on the said property: A log house 22 x 22 with shingle roof, a log shed 10 x 14 with board roof and a frame barn 40 x 40 with shingle roof, all in good state of repair.

The property will be sold subject to a Reserve Bid. Terms of payment will be 10 per cent cash on the day of sale and the balance within 60 days thereafter without interest. Other terms and conditions are the standing conditions of the Supreme Court of Alberta as settled by the Master in Chancery. Further particulars may be had from Messrs. Griesbach, O'Connor & Company, Solicitors, Edmonton, Alberta.

ALEX TAYLOR,
Clerk of the Supreme Court of Alberta, Edmonton.

Dun-Spey Whiskey

The most wonderful Whiskey on earth:
The mingled souls of wheat and corn.
For many years this liquid joy
Has been within the staves of oak.
Longing to touch the lips of man.

TO BE HAD AT

F. L. SMITH, Ltd.

Great West Livery Feed and Sale Stables

Best Equipped Livery in Lacombe

Rigs at reasonable rates. Draying on short notice.
Horses bought and sold.

Phone 143

D. W. GARNER, Prop.

Blue

Ribbon

COFFEE and BAKING POWDER

Blue Ribbon Tea, Coffee, Baking Powder, Spices, Jelly Powders and Extracts. Pure and best.
When in doubt use Blue Ribbon. We guarantee perfect satisfaction with all our pure food products.

THE MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA

One of the Oldest Banks in Canada

Capital and Reserve funds over $13,500,000

195 branches in Canada. Savings Bank department at each branch.

Interest paid at highest current rates. One Dollar opens an account.

LACOMBE BRANCH

W. A. SHIELDS, Mgr.

LACOMBE, ALTA.

To clear I am offering all of winter suits and trousers at 20 per cent discount

Repairing :: Cleaning :: Pressing
D. CAMERON

PRIVATE FUNDS TO LOAN

Easy rates and terms of repayment
No delay, no publicity. See

JOHN McKENTY

Day Block

Lacombe

For Sale Exclusively

Wilson & Mortimer

160 acres near Gull Lake and 10 miles from Ponoka, unimproved. Price $1670, cash.

100 acres 1 mile from Forster, all fenced, well and creek, 20 acres cultivated, good house, small stable. Price $2,200. Terms $600 cash and balance arranged.

Small house and 4 lots in Lacombe for sale or trade.

Cottages and lots for sale at Manhattan Beach, Gull Lake, good terms.

Small cottage, lot with good sandy beach at Brownlow's Landing, Gull Lake, price $250. Terms.

Fire, Life, Accident, Sickness, Live Stock and Hail Insurance.

We represent the Northern Trust, Royal Trust and Standard Trust Companies.

We have Thoroughbred Horses to exchange for farm land.

WILSON & MORTIMER

Phone 122 RAILWAY ST., LACOMBE

Terrible Explosion at Stock Show

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Three people were killed, six people were injured and 25 horses, including one of the most famous strings of horses in the hunter class in America were wiped out of existence by the explosion of a boiler in the fat stock show building here this morning. The horses were valued at $100,000.

The dead are Napoleon St. Denis, Hull; John W. McDonald of Ottawa, both butchers, and an unknown man believed to be a cattle drover. The world champion hunters owned by Geo. Pepper, were destroyed.

In addition there were 14 other horses belonging to different horsemen valued at $35,000.

There were 150 horses in the building at the time of the explosion. Horsemen had considerable difficulty in getting their horses out.

The explosion was due to the boilers being filled suddenly with cold water when they were at red heat.

The Ontario government will be liable for damages in the event of claims being entered.

Seven of the Pepper string were killed, including Calgary Jass the highest jumping pony in the world. She was immediately over the boiler and was blown 100 feet into the air, passing over the pavilion. In her descent she fell on the galvanized roof of the pavilion, breaking every bone in her body.

Loss of horses has been particularly severe some considerable loss to sheep swine and poultry also having been sustained, will fall heavily on exhibitors. The building is wrecked to such an extent as to render the continuance of the show impossible and accordingly discontinuance has been decided upon and exhibitors have been notified to remove their exhibits.

ONE POINT EFFECTIVELY CLEARED

Announcements, made with more or less evidence of official authority, have been circulating out of Ottawa for more than half a year to the effect that the much-touted parcels post was to be established in Canada immediately after New Year.

Now comes the announcement by Sir William Mackenzie himself that the adjustment of the remuneration to the railways has not yet been accomplished, and that the inauguration of the parcels post is likely to be delayed for some time pending negotiations. The railways, he claims, have been carrying the mails for little or nothing, and are entitled to a much larger remuneration for handling the parcels post.

So when the post master general gave his celebrated announcement to the dominion home that Canada was to have parcels post, he did so with the sotto voce reservation that such a service, if it was to be established by the Bowles' government, was subject to the railways' consent.

Sir William's announcement that parcels post cannot be inaugurated until he and his partners have been dealt with does not assist anyone to believe that relief is coming soon from the express monopoly. But it at least clears up one point. It makes it plain who is really running this dominion of Canada.

TOO GREAT LENIENCY IN THE COURTS

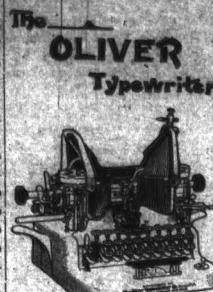

Are not the judges in the West much too lenient in cases of most serious nature? The question must surely arise upon pronouncement of the sentence of a year in prison passed upon a man who appeared in supreme court of Saskatchewan a day or two ago, charged with an offence against a girl of nine years.

If there is one matter more than another in which public opinion would most strongly approve of the application of the law's utmost severity, it is in cases of this and similar nature. Public opinion is not hysterical on the matter in the West. No attempt is made to apply "lynch law" or to influence the decision or sentence of the judges. But the force of public indignation surely makes necessary a judgment which will stand as a warning and make for leniency.

The West is lenient as a rule in its judgement of wrongdoers, and it is probable the judges are influenced to some extent by this sentiment. As a general rule there is no public indignation against offenders, and it is very easy to make the mistake of supposing this applies to all cases. The tendency has been toward too great leniency.

The law says murderers must hang, but how long is it since a murderer in Alberta did hang? Sentences of from three to five years have been the average in cases which public opinion considered deliberate murders. Crimes against women, and children, too, have been all too frequent, and a sentence of one year is reason for an offence of this kind is all too lenient. For while the West generally is lenient in minor offences, it also retains a very deep instinct of chivalry which makes offences against women peculiarly the crime for which application of the severest penalty provided by law would be considered none too drastic. The West recognizes the fact that punishment great enough to give a truly exemplary influence is necessary.

The best is the cheapest.

All I ask is the opportunity to prove to you that the Oliver Typewriter is the best in the world. If you need a typewriter you owe it to yourself to become acquainted with the Oliver.

F. H. SCHOOLEY, Local Agent

CANADIAN PICTORIAL

Canada's Most Artistic and Popular Magazine

This elegant magazine delights the eye while it instructs the mind concerning the picturesque doings of an interesting and highly entertaining world.

Each issue is literally crowded with the highest quality of photographs, many of them in full frame.

It is the most popular "Pictorial" on the waiting room tables of the leading doctors throughout the Dominion, and in the big public libraries it is literally "used up" by the many who are attracted by its entertaining and beautiful pages.

It's a "love at sight" publication and it has departmental features of great interest to the young women and the home-maker.

Or just to quote one man's praise from among thousands—the Canadian High Commissioner in London—the Rt. Hon. Lord Strathcona, wrote:

"The Canadian Pictorial is a publication which, if I may be permitted to say so, is a credit to Canada." (Signed) STRATHCONA.

On trial to New Subscribers—Twelve months for only 65 cents.

The "Canadian Pictorial" is published by THE PICTORIAL PUBLISHING CO., "Witness" Block, Montreal, Can. Try it for a year.

EDWIN H. JONES

Barrister, Solicitor and Notary

P. O. Box 148—Phone No. 19
Offices Denke Block, Barnett Ave.

VIGOROUS JOURNALISM

Of the Out and Out, Independent Kind

People who really want a sturdy independent but franky liberal newspaper, will appreciate Mr. Dougal's paper, the "Montreal Weekly Witness." While some papers are notoriously and obviously at the beck and call of predatory interests, there are others that have maintained their independence and poetically that great national paper, the "Montreal Weekly Witness," is a striking example. It has never been "under the thumb" of any powerful political or financial clique. It has never grumbled. It has never boasted. It has never ranted. The "Witness" is the unique self, loved by its friends, hated by its enemies.

Founded some sixty-eight years ago by the late John Dougal, the "Witness" has always been, and the "Weekly Witness" still continues to be, exclusively owned and edited by Dougal.

During the past three generations it has conscientiously, devotedly and very efficiently, served its country in many ways, notably in its campaigns for Temperance, Prohibition, Right to Life, Education, and Labor, all of which looking towards lower cost and higher plane of living. If Canada is not yet enjoying to the full the benefits of these things, it is far ahead of many other countries in most of them, and this is due in no small measure to the stand, or, more correctly, the splendid campaign of the "Witness" whenever opportunity afforded. The welfare of the Canadian farmer in particular has always been considered of prime importance by the Editor of the "Witness," and the "Witness" has done much to serve the interests of agriculture.

Universities of all kinds, Canadian families have literally been "brought up" on the "Witness," as many of the most eminent Canadians will testify, and they continue its devoted adherence.

Published weekly and at nominal price of this great newspaper, it has attractive features embracing all the interests of the family and a splendid Farm and Garden section. Its stirring historical stories are a strong selling point, and they alone are worth several times the price—$one dollar a year. To bonn the "Witness" is a good investment. In about a month, one trial year may be had for only 65 cents. The publishers are always JOHN DOUGALL & SON, "Witness" Building, Montreal, Can.

The "Weekly Witness" has now no connection with any daily newspaper and is the healthiest for it.

Magnet Lodge No. 12 I.O.O.F.

Meets in Masonic Hall, Lacombe

every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Visiting brothers always welcome.—M. B. McDonald N. G.

Geo. Baker, R. S.

D. C. GOURLAY, President
F. VICKERSON, Sec-Treas.

Lacombe, Alta., Jan. 20, 1914.

B. C. CAFE

V. H. VING, Prop.

Warm meals at all hours

First meeting place

1st door north of Vickerson's Office, Railway St.

JOS. M. AWAD

General Merchant

Railway Street

Lacombe

Alberta

Winter Goods

Winter is here! My stock of Sweaters, Sheep-lined Coats, Overshoes, Mitts and Gloves, will appeal to the man who likes to be comfortable in cold weather, and the prices on these goods will appeal to the man who likes to see his dollar buy the biggest dollar's worth.

My Grocery Department is up to date and I will be pleased to show the advantage of trading at my store.

THE FLIRTATION OF ANNE

She Knew He Was a Winner.

By RITA KELLEY.

The delayed invitation of Janet Fair, nearly always caused a rupture in the Hallivans' social life, so intense was the scramble to get tickets that matched the above, grinded to a standstill with sufficient of everything into the traveling bags and Anne off to the station. She had to leave before she snatched from her writing desk a few pages torn from a magazine and stuffed them into her hand bag as she hurried down to the car. Janet had sent her the story a fortnight ago, and the success or failure of what she wrote was decided by some criterion for her best beloved.

Anne made the train. As she hurried down the platform and climbed into the car a feeling of wild good humor possessed her. The old cramping consciousness that savored of self consciousness in its various forms had been left in the excitement of the last hour. She found herself within the car with a fiery desire to do something rash.

She didn't know what exactly. Then it flashed over her—no old ladies or women with children or eyes elderly men. She shuddered at thought of the matronly types who were still in the world, whose truly seats—no. This time she was free from tradition. She would pick a winner! With brute determination she gripped her bags and sat down the aisle in quest of him. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

"Not Janet," protested Anne. "I never went in for men in my life. I couldn't do it. I'd hate myself."

"I'm a deep dyed villain!" growled Janet, striking an attitude. "You needn't say that, nor do I know what for a simple and good reason why I sent you a belated invitation, why I expected Astley Churchill on the 4th train, why?"

"I was."

Anne started in consternation. Her balance against the low railing was failing backward when strong arms caught her and set her upon her feet. Then a traveling bag was flung upon the balcony, and, emerging from the shadows beneath, a man vaulted over the railing.

"My info of the story," he said, naming whimsically upon Anne, who after one swift look was trying vainly to melt into the shadow. "I have a score to settle with you after I get something to eat. Just look at this situation here. You're a bit of a sponge. And those echoing arms can't hold that bag million on an empty stomach."

"Oh, jolly!" screamed Janet exultantly, sliding through the French window. "You'll have a banquet, Andrew?"

A terrifying silence followed the click of the window behind Janet's exit. Anne stood on the chilly balcony with the perfect stillness that preceded either attack or flight. Her gaze strayed into the steady eyes of the man before her.

Then turning swiftly, she wrestled with the window, fastening for an instant and fled. The man, laughing and called the tilt after the banquet, receded into the distance.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

He was a young man who would have his way. Anne disconsolately admitted this. She had been playing too no peace with him desperately all evening, with the dawning conviction that she would be won over. When she was at the extreme end of the car, Miss Fair burst in, her hands in the pocket. The little query was said, the slyious moving of bags ended, and Anne sank into the man's place by the window, facing him, with a tiny feeling of exultation.

CHAOS IN BOUNDARIES.

Frontiers in South America Are Not Uncertain Quantity.

The frontiers of Bolivia, like those of most South American countries, are very uncertain, and a map of South America made in Bolivia includes a large portion of the land which is not the domain of the Chaco. A map of South America made by the Argentine Republic shows Bolivia as an entirely different country, with no Chaco in its boundary. Then a map of South America made in Peru includes a vast highland in Amazonia, while one made in Bolivia excludes it. The Brazilian frontier away over in the far-off marshy parts of the Peruvian map, while the map makers of Ecuador and Colombia show an entirely different disposition of the lands at the headwaters of the Amazon from that depicted in the Brazilian and the Peruvian maps.

There is, however, a commission composed of Brazilians and Paraguayans who are at the headwaters of the Amazon delimiting the frontiers of Peru and Brazil and incidentally rectifying the boundaries of Chile. Meanwhile Bolivian soldiers are fighting Argentine soldiers on the border, but I don't believe that they have got as far as the Amazon yet. I am engaged to him, and Daisy told me the truth. But what right have you to gather that fact that I am going to marry the little fool? Goodness gracious! I just don't understand it. Can't a girl get married without having a husband running about telling that she is going to marry him?

"We girls have a rough row to hoe."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FOOD AND FUEL ARMIES.

What the Increasing Population of the World May Force.

According to Professor H. N. Dickson of the University College, Edinburgh, the world is beginning to feel the pinch of fuel and food. The prospect of a world war seems imminent, and Britain is to attend the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science that the human race will be in the position of a family which has occupied the same house for many years, and has outgrown the produce of the place, making a removal to other and necessary.

What we are likely to do is to increase our production of foodstuffs, and to import more coal.

That is odd. I wonder how it came to decide to do it?"

"Simple enough. It decided to obey the law."—St. Louis Republic.

A Genius.

"All the master minds are not at the head of great industrial enterprises."

"No, I ain't."

"Are you sure?"

"Well, I don't think much."

"Tell me this instant what you are doing, and I will tell you what you will have to come up with the next morning."

After a moment's silence the little one replied:

"I'm just twirling hairpins into the soup bowl Marjorie's looking glass."—Teenage Telegram.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS.

A short time ago we wrote an article to the effect that radium has no value in the treatment of cancer. Now we learn that the German authorities are buying the whole available supply for this very purpose, and German medical practice is to make use of radium in the treatment of cancer.

It seems we have a stanch admirer in Janet, and she said gently, "I do hope you'll let me help you." And I do, too."

"I'm a queer girl," he drawled. "I said you would have to be taken when you were born."

Anne blinked. Where was he?

"I'm a queer girl," he drawled. "I said you would have to be taken when you were born."

Anne blurted out, "I did it myself. I knew you were a winner."

"I'm a queer girl," he drawled. "I said you would have to be taken when you were born."

Anne blurted out, "I did it myself. I knew you were a winner."

"I'm a queer girl," he drawled. "I said you would have to be taken when you were born."

Anne blurted out, "I did it myself. I knew you were a winner."

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Coughs and Colds.

In the season when coughs and colds are most prevalent, the method of preventing them and checking the first symptoms without drugs may be of inestimable value. Therefore the following suggestions are offered in anticipation: When you are exposed to cold air, take a coat to get it to keep seated so close to the lungs will. Draw air into the lungs well, and then expel it.

Repeat this every half hour.

When you are exposed to cold air,

TWO DIFFERENT THINGS.

Showing How Girls Differ & Little Question of Fact.

The two girls—and there were two girls met on the street—laughed merrily and started to chatter. And the first girl said:

"I just want to congratulate you, dear."

"Thank you. But what for?"

"I hear you are going to marry Dick Benrooster."

"Who ever told you such a ridiculous thing as that?"

"Why, your best friend, Daisy Starburst."

"Listen, dearie. I don't doubt your honesty, but I can't believe that Daisy ever said anything such as that."

"What difference would it make if we gave up the fight? Who would notice our vanishing, and what is one life among so many?"

In that moment Anne's heart stopped. It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though each of us placed a hand upon her breast.

It was as though

THE LEADING STORE

Final Clearance of All Winter Goods in the Pre-Inventory Sale

The last day of January we make inventory of stock, and to reduce it as low as possible we have made Slashing Reductions on All Winter Goods

Saving Prices All Over the Store

Ladies' Sweaters at Half Price

The balance of our stock of Ladies' and Children's fine knit Sweaters in large assortiment of styles and colors, at exactly half price.

Furs of All Kinds at Sweeping Reductions

Including Ladies' Rat Coats, Fur-lined Coats, Fur Scarfs, Stoles and Muffs at special clearing prices.

Ladies' and Children's Dresses One-Third Off

Our entire stock of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Dresses in Serges, Panamas, Taffeta Cloths, Whiplocks, and Shepherd Checks, all at a discount of $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent

Ladies' Winter Caps at Half Price

The balance of our stock of Aviator Caps and Toques in a large assortment of styles. Take your choice at half price.

5 doz. Children's Toques in brown, red, navy, and grey, in plain and combination colors, regular 35c and 50c, clearing at 25c each

House Furnishings at Clearing Prices

We offer special inducement to buy House Furnishings during this sale, including Carpet Squares, Hearth Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, Blankets, Comforters, White Spreads, Curtains and Table Covers, all at reduced prices.

Final Reduction on Boots and Shoes

We have several lines of Ladies' Boots and Shoes that are left from the heavy selling and in many instances we have only a few sizes left of each. To clear these quickly we have cut the price in half.

Ladies' Felt Boots and Slippers

All our Ladies' and Children's Winter Felt Boots and House Slippers in a big variety of styles, 25 per cent off.

Clean Up Prices in the Men's Department

Fur Coats at Slaughter Prices

3 Coon Coats, highest grade made, regular $160.00, now ... $115.00

2 Coon Coats, regular $150.00, now ... $108.00

4 Korean Beaver Coats were $27.50 now $22.50

6 China Dog Coats, regular $22.50, now $17.00

3 Black Beaver Coats with eel cloth lining and interlined with rubber, regular $35.00, now $27.00

Men's Fur Gauntlets and Mitts at $\frac{1}{3}$ Less

Men's Korean Beaver Mitts, were $6.00, now $4.00
Men's China Dog Gauntlets, were $6.00, now $4.00
Men's Cowl Cloth Gauntlets, were $2.50, now $1.90
All working Gloves and Mitts at big reductions

Sweeping Reduction on Remnants and All Odds and Ends

A Car Load of Groceries at Unbeatable Prices

Best quality of Aylmer Brand Canned Goods
Tomatoes.....	old price 2 cans for 35c	new price 2 cans for 25c
Corn.....	" 15c per can	" 10c per can
Pas.....	" 15c per can	" 10c per can
Beans.....	" 15c per can	" 10c per can
3 lb tins Pumpkin.....	" 15c per can	" 2 cans for 25c
Finest Red Sockeye Salmon.....	old price 30c can	" 20c per can
98 lb sack Royal Household Flour.....	old price $3.50	new price $3.00
98 lb sack Glenora Flour.....	" 3.25	" 2.65
20 lb sack best Granulated Sugar.....	" 1.25	" 1.10
Herrings in Bullion.....	" 20c	" 10c
Choice Washington Apples.....		$1.75 a box
Lemons.....	30c a doz	Oranges..... 20c 30c 35c a doz
Best quality of Bran and Shorts.....		$1.00 per hundred pounds

Hardware at Big Reductions

All copper nickel plated Teakettles
Old price $2.50 - $2.25 Old price $1.75 - $1.50

Diamond A Food Choppers, the handiest article around the house, 4 plates with each chopper.
No. 1 size, old price $1.50 now $1.30
No. 2 size, old price 1.85 now 1.65
No. 3 size, old price 2.25 now 2.00

Now is the Time to Buy Your Heating Stoves

Belle Oak Heaters	Special Oak Heaters	Sunbeam Oak Heaters
No. 12, old price $14.50 - $12.50	No. 15, old price $12.50 - $11.00	No. 18, old price $9.50 - $8.00
No. 14, old price 15.50 - 17.00	No. 17, old price 16.00 - 14.50	No. 15, old price 12.00 - 10.50
No. 16, old price 22.50 - 21.00	No. 19, old price 20.00 - 18.50	No. 17, old price 14.50 - 13.00

HIGHEST CASH PRICE PAID FOR PRODUCE

A. M. Campbell, Lacombe, Alta.